DEMYSTIFYING THE PATENT APPLICATION PROCESS

Despite it being a mere application, the filing of a patent may be regarded as one of the most technically challenging applications for an intellectual property (IP) right.

It is also relatively costly when compared to other types of IP applications. This complexity is compounded by the fact that no worldwide patent exists, and that the estimated patent application success rate is only in the 50%-60% range.

Join us at this half-day webinar to demystify the patent application process and to learn best practices when filing a patent application.

You will learn to make sense of the patent application and its processes in Singapore and abroad to make more informed filing decisions, be in a better position to prepare a simple patent application, and form a more collaborative relationship with a patent attorney.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is beneficial for business owners, officers from public agencies, researchers, engineers, lawyers, patent agents, and officers from technology transfer offices.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

This course is focused on making sense of the patent application and its processes in Singapore and abroad, in order that potential applicants may:

- make better filing decisions;
- be in a better position to prepare some parts of a simple patent application; and
- form a more collaborative relationship with a patent attorney.

It will be good for learning purposes if participants have prior basic knowledge of patents.

TUTOR PROFILE

MR NG CHONG YUAN
Faculty, IP Academy

Mr. Ng Chong Yuan is Faculty of IPOS International. He is a Singapore qualified Advocate & Solicitor and has diverse in-house work experience in technology businesses spanning over about a decade. Currently, as a faculty member of IPOS International, he is teaching and speaking on practice and management courses covering intellectual property (IP) and trade secrets.

Prior to joining IPOS International, he was practising law at an international law firm, specializing in Intellectual Property (IP), Technology and Commercial Laws. As part of this legal practice, he focused on advising and representing clients on broad portfolios of patent and trade mark rights covering many jurisdictions around the world, including USA, EU, CN, SG and AU. His clients included international manufacturing firms, technology firms, foreign law firms and government agencies. His practice experience included IP prosecution, IP court litigation and IP advisory work.

With an engineering training, Chong Yuan has also tutored and conducted research at the engineering school of a Singapore university. He is also an inventor of a USA patent (no. 6853626).
